Program Description:

NewYork-Presbyterian Hospital is a 2400+ bed tertiary care facility consisting of two primary centers affiliated with the medical colleges of Columbia and Cornell Universities. We offer four PGY1 pharmacy residency positions and three PGY2 pharmacy residency positions (critical care, infectious disease, and solid organ transplantation). We offer a flexible program customized to each resident through our extensive clinical practice programs in adult and pediatric heart, liver, lung, kidney, and/or pancreas transplantation. From evaluation to post-operative follow-up, patients receive a seamless integration of multidisciplinary services that deliver the comprehensive and consistent care necessary for their well-being. Along with excellence in clinical care, NewYork-Presbyterian is committed to the ongoing progress of transplantation through rigorous scientific research. Competitive salary and benefits are provided. The program is ASHP-accredited.
