It is important for your child’s stomach to be completely empty prior to procedures. Eating or drinking before anesthesia can cause choking or vomiting which may result in pneumonia.

Since different liquids and foods move through the stomach at different speeds, it is important to follow these instructions to keep your child safe.

A perioperative nurse from the Children’s Hospital will call you the evening before your child’s procedure informing you of arrival time and to review and clarify these instructions.

If your child eats or drinks after the specified time, the procedure or surgery may be canceled or delayed.

- Solid foods: NO food, milk, candy or gum is allowed after MIDNIGHT, the night before the procedure.
- Infant formula: Give formula up to 6 hours before arrival time.
- Breast milk: Give breast milk up to 4 hours before arrival time.
- Clear liquids: Give clear liquids (water, pedialyte, apple juice) up to 2 hours before arrival time.

Once your child is no longer able to have solids, infant formula, or breast milk, please encourage your child to drink plenty of clear liquids to maintain adequate hydration.
