What is a RHIO?

KEY

= Transmission of Clinical Patient Information
Who We Are

The largest RHIO - regional health information organization - in New York City and Long Island, Healthix is a participant in the State Health Information Network of New York (SHIN-NY).

Healthix connects hundreds of hospitals, nursing homes, home care agencies, FQHCs and doctors in Manhattan, Queens, Long Island, Brooklyn & Staten Island.

Healthix maintains records for over 15 million patients, and over 2.5 million have already given consent for their providers to access their data.
Healthix Members Include

- 200+ Participants
- 600+ Facilities

- Hospitals and Health Systems
- Long Term Care
- Community Based Organizations
- Behavioral Health Organizations
- Physician Practices
- Health Plans

Training & Dependencies

The resources listed below have been authorized for your user account in the Healthix Portal. Prior to accessing certain resources, you may be required to complete specific dependencies, such as training modules, online certifications, or provide required profile information.

Incomplete mandatory dependencies are highlighted. For resources with multiple required dependencies, you must complete the dependencies in the order they are listed. Only the first highlighted dependency for each resource is an active link you can select to access that dependency.

Once you have completed a training module or accessed online documentation, they will remain available for you to review at any time.

Integration Models

Practices with EMR:

• Establish technical connectivity to exchange demographic and clinical data

• Enable providers to query Healthix for patient data and receive Clinical Event Notifications within the EMR or via Healthix Web Portal

Practices without EMR:

• Send file of patient demographics to Healthix in lieu of technical connectivity

• Enable providers to query Healthix for patient data and receive Clinical Event Notifications via Healthix Web Portal
