

Amir Dan Rubin, MBA

President and Chief Executive Officer, Stanford Hospital & Clinics

Amir Dan Rubin serves as President and CEO of Stanford Hospital & Clinics in Palo Alto, California. With an annual operating budget of $2 billion, Stanford Hospital & Clinics is currently undergoing a major modernization project to develop new facilities, as it continues its efforts in delivering world-class quality, service and operations excellence.

Rubin previously served as Chief Operating Officer for the UCLA Hospital System, responsible for the operations of the Ronald Reagan UCLA Medical Center, Mattel Children's Hospital at UCLA, the Resnick Neuropsychiatric Hospital at UCLA, Santa Monica-UCLA Medical Center and Orthopedic Hospital, and an array of outpatient centers across the west side of Los Angeles. At UCLA, Rubin was involved in advancing quality and the patient experience, implementing lean operations improvement approaches, developing new hospitals and clinics, and expanding the health network.

Prior to UCLA, Rubin served as Chief Operating Officer for Stony Brook University Hospital, a 504-bed, comprehensive academic medical center on Long Island, New York. At Stony Brook, Rubin was involved in efforts to improve quality, operations and the patient experience. He also was involved with developing a new hospital modernization project and in expanding the outpatient campus. Prior to Stony Brook, Rubin served as Assistant Vice President of Operations for Memorial Hermann Hospital in Houston, Texas, an 818-bed, level-1 trauma center, which serves as the primary teaching hospital for the University of Texas at Houston, Medical School. Prior to his role at Memorial Hermann Hospital, Rubin served as Director of Business Development for the corporate parent of the 12-hospital Memorial Hermann Healthcare System. Rubin also previously worked in health care consulting in San Francisco, CA., working with leading hospitals, health care systems, and managed care plans to improve quality, operations and financial performance.

Rubin earned a Master's in Business Administration from the Ross School of Business at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, a Master's degree in Health Services Administration from the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, and a Bachelor's degree in Economics with a minor in Business Administration from the University of California, Berkeley.